About Me

I design and develop experiences that make people's lives simpler.

Hello! I'm Ranjith, a passionate frontend developer based in New York. I specialize in creating interactive websites and applications with clean code and pixel-perfect design.

With over 5 years of experience, I've worked on various projects from small business websites to complex web applications. I'm constantly learning new technologies and techniques to stay ahead in this rapidly evolving industry. When I'm not coding, you can find me hiking, reading, or experimenting with new recipes in the kitchen.
